“Let Your Dream Evolve”

The scripture is clear. “To everything, there is a season” (Ecclesiastes 3:1). This means in life there is a time to make the right move, in the right way, at the right time. But upward mobility involves both the negative and the positive. As positive and negative wires generate the power of electricity, in like manner, negatives are used with positives to create mountain-moving energy for the believer.

Faith in God means spacing your progress. The challenges come in knowing when to push forward, when to hold back, when to dig in, when to yield, when to hold on, and when to let go.

Meanwhile, always be conscious of the fact that your prayers through life is regulated by an All-Wise Timekeeper, God Almighty. When you walk the walk of faith, you do not only trust God but you thrust yourself fully upon Him with the full assurance that everything will be alright.

Give God time and He will cause your dream to come to fruition. Reschedule your timetable. Be prepared to revise your timetable before you bury your dream! What you need is not more faith but more patience. The impossible will become possible when you take the long look.

If you are tempted to abandon your dream – DON'T! Remember one quality God has is immeasurable long suffering and a patient attitude. Become more God-like and allow your dreams to evolve.

Just a reminder: Next Sunday we will be celebrating Holy Communion.
